The 1952

Dubois

Bishop Dubois High School
New York City

Dedication

... to Our Parents

To the PARENTS of all Dubois Men we happily dedicate this Yearbook—in earnest recognition and heartfelt appreciation of their manifold sacrifices through the years to make possible the physical, mental, and moral development of their sons.

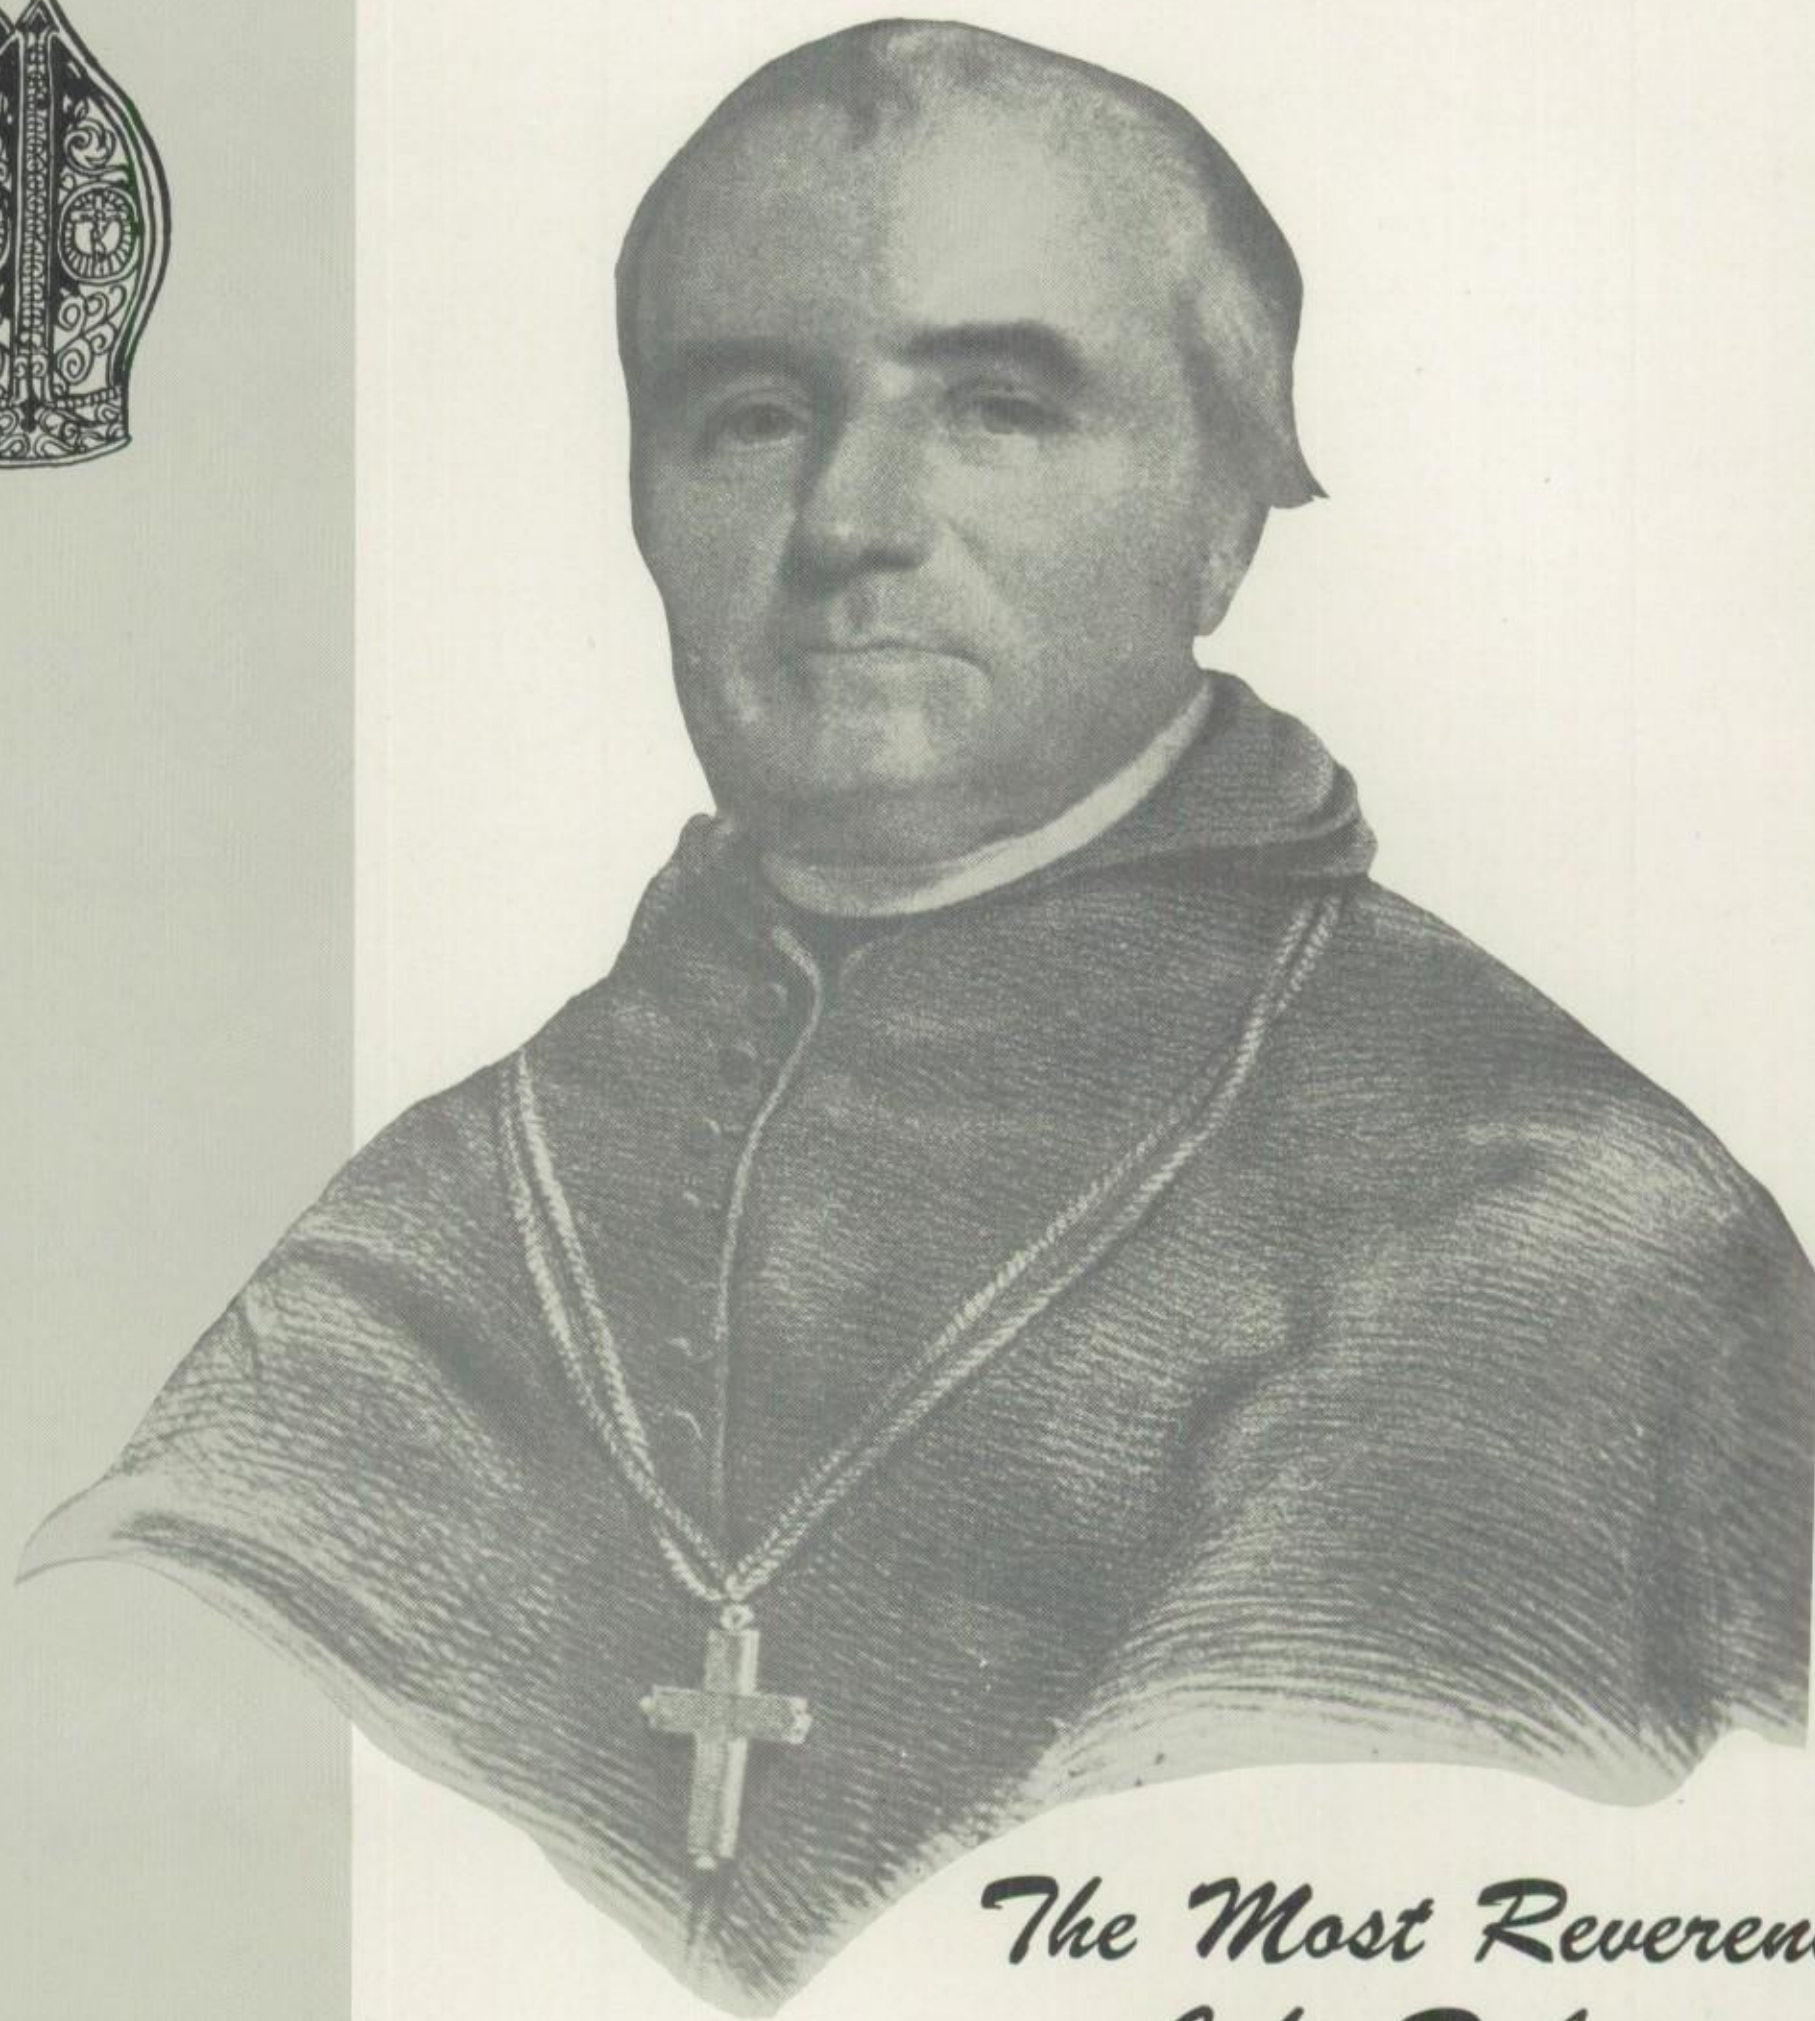

Our graduation from a Catholic high school is due to their full realization of the importance of a true and complete education which fixes our gaze upon Almighty God, fashions our character, creates good citizenship, and prepares us for the business of life.

Whatever we are and whatever we shall strive to become we owe ultimately to the zealous and watchful guidance of our fathers and mothers.

It is our fervent wish that the Holy Family—pattern and model for all Christian families—smiles kindly upon them for a job well done.

The Most Reverend John Dubois

Bishop of New York 1826-1842

The zeal and labors of Bishop Dubois for Christ and His Church provide us a glorious inspiration to carry on in his illustrious footsteps. His devotion to children and to Catholic education makes this school proud to bear his esteemed name.

Francis Cardinal Spellman

Archbishop of New York

Faculty

To these talented and respected gentlemen — priests, brothers, laymen — has been entrusted the training of the youth of Dubois. They are teachers, according to the plan of Mother Church, "who are thoroughly prepared and well-grounded in the matter they have to teach; who possess the intellectual and moral qualifications required by their important office; who cherish a pure and holy love for the youths confided to them, because they love Jesus Christ and His Church; and who have sincerely at heart the true good of family and country."

Under

Fearful Frosh

On the academic ladder leading to the august heights of seniorship, the Freshman occupies the lowest rung. This little fellow is straight from the nursery and all set to girt himself for the "great adventure." He arrives the first day with his notebook and new schoolbag. These accessories and his blue serge suit give him the appearance of a little businessman. At first he is a bit fearful of the strange building and the unfamiliar faces but when he overhears the Seniors glibly discussing parabolas, hyperbolas, and other scientific matters he is only terrified. Looking around the yard he spots the Juniors nonchalantly playing basketball and he says to himself, "They must have nerves of steel, not to be worrying about this coming year!" ("Heads of wood" would be a more accurate appraisal but that doesn't occur to him.) He looks about again and spots, to his horror, an isolated group leering with satanic grins in his direction. No one need tell him they are Sophomores and that he had better steer clear! But time moves on and soon our little Frosh is up to his neck in declensions, radical signs, and foot candles. By the middle of the semester he has lost much of his shyness and has determined to put aside lollypops forever. By June he's a wee haggard but a whole lot wiser—in fact, he's a Sophomore!

Swaggering Sops

The Sophomore is a species apart. His blue serge suit has been discarded for oversized raincoats, loafers, luminous socks, and char- treuse ties. He swaggers with an air of superiority and looks coldly upon the Freshman as though measuring him for a gelatin mold to be dipped into a tub of sulphuric acid. He is now an experienced old veteran of a full year who deigns to hang on to school life only that he might one day be transported to the green and cultivated valley inhabited by the carefree Juniors.

The Evolution

classmen

Jaunty Juniors

For the Junior the novelty of high school life has worn off and he is left with neither the expectancy of the Freshman nor the zingggggg of the Sophomore. A shell of his former enthusiastic self, he stumbles about the school in his worn Dubois sweater with the zip and anticipation of a tired night-watchman. In all his spare time he plays basketball to relax his poor strained brain. The Sophs consider him an absentminded genius and follow him around to gather stray bits of wisdom; such as, "Rhubarb does not grow in winter," and "Sashay la fame, lad."

Suave Seniors

The Senior is at the top of the ladder scaling the heights. Suave, sophisticated, scintillating, man-of-the-world, he is often seen sporting a gold-rimmed cigarette holder and passing out Parliaments to the faculty. His mode of dress has changed considerably. Neat pin-striped suits adorn his physique, with plenty of padding to do justice to his shoulders. His speech is enhanced with flowing sonorous phrases like, "Please cease your superfluous, supercilious statements," and "The ambiguity of your remarks tends to show your less than infinitesimal mind." He spells the school's name "Dubois," not "DuBois" and he pronounces it with a pure Gallic "bwa." He is completely removed from the common lot of undergraduates and tolerates only the faculty. All stand in awe of him and address him by invitation only. Upon graduation, he and his fellows customarily leave to the school some slight memento, such as, "Class of 1952" incised in the stone front of the building in letters three feet high. Some go to college—and the cycle begins all over again!

FRANCIS CURRAN '51
Studying for the priesthood
at Maryknoll College,
Lakewood, N. J.

During the six years of its existence, our school has been singularly blessed by Almighty God. From our ranks He has deigned to choose many young men both to spread the Gospel and to educate others in Christian living.

Marist Brothers Scholastics
Francis Moran and John Callanan both of the Class of '50.

. . . for the Glory of God

The Marist Novices in cassock are Robert Reddington '51, Dominic Cavallaro '51, Michael Sheridan '51, Clyde Dela Noy '51, and Robert Claudio '51. The Postulants in the rear are James Friel '52, Peter Koenig '52, William Ryan '50, James Zbinden '52, and Thomas Scanlon '52.

Presenting . . .

52

The Graduates

CORNELIUS P. AHEARN

550 West 180th Street, New York 33

Varsity Baseball 2, 3, 4; Track 2; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 3; Sodality 4; Dramatic Club 4.

Neil . . . came to us by way of Incarnation. He is recognized as the best informed member of the school where baseball is concerned. He is adept at math and hopes to become a C.P.A. after a business course at Manhattan.

ANDREW T. BARICAK

513 West 134th Street, New York 31

Student Government Vice President; Varsity Basketball 4; Intramural Basketball 2, 3, 4; Sodality 4.

Andy . . . an earnest and energetic chap who finds a happy outlet for his zip in basketball, baseball and swimming. He likes math but detests physics. He has already passed a Civil Service exam and expects to head immediately for employment at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

WILLIAM J. BRENNAN

505 West 167th Street, New York 32

President of Senior Year; Intramural Track 1; Intramural Basketball 3, 4; Dramatics 4; Math Club 2, 3; Yearbook Dance Committee 4.

Bill . . . St. Rose's contribution to the life of Dubois. The "Bookie" is seen most often with Pat Honan and Jim Burbage. He collects records and plays the tenor sax. A teaching career is his choice after a college course at St. John's.

JAMES J. BURBAGE

565 West 162nd Street, New York 32

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Dramatics 4; Math Club 3; Yearbook Dance Committee 4.

Jim . . . known to all for his sense of humor, hearty laugh, and spontaneous ad lib. Jovial Jim has intentions of attending business school at Manhattan college.

ROBERT J. CALLAHAN

1386 Ogden Avenue, New York 52

Science Club 1; Intramural Track 1, 2; Basketball 1, 4.

... distinguished by his likeable smile, ready wit, and his genuine earnestness in school work. His interest in science and math, together with his confidence and competence, should bring him through college to his desired B.S. in Mechanical Engineering.

EDWARD J. CAMACHO

616 West 137th Street, New York 31

Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Science Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Ramblers 2, 3, 4; Missions 2, 3; Alert Sports Editor 4.

Ed ... known for his diligence in studies, school spirit, speed and endurance on the track field, and his affection for skiing and fishing. Ed's ambition is to become one of N.Y.U.'s finest chemical engineers and to be, in his spare time, a competent stockcar racer.

DONALD P. CANAVAN

611 West 152nd Street, New York 31

Jaycee Track 1; Varsity Track 3, 4; Sodality 4; Dramatic Club 3; Dance Committee 3, 4.

Digger ... that's what his pals call him ... enjoyed his four years at Dubois by pitching into activities, especially track and school dances. His interest and initiative should guarantee him success in college.

JAMES R. CAMPBELL

502 West 142nd Street, New York 31

Sodality 4; Intramural Basketball 4.

Jimmy ... came to Dubois for his senior year of high school. Intelligent and amiable, he made friends rapidly and is now a thorough Dubois Man. After commencement he will probably enroll at Fordham to prepare himself for medicine.

ROBERT J. CARMODY

573 West 191st Street, New York 33

Missions 1, 2, 3, 4; Dance Club 3, 4.

Hoppy . . . from the Heights. One of the sleepers of the class—not the snoring kind but rather the type that makes the touch-down in football because the opposition forgets he is on the field.

MICHAEL S. COFFEY

569 West 150th Street, New York 31

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Rambler 2, 3; Sodality 1, 3, 4; Science Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Dance Committee 3, 4.

Mike . . . a next door neighbor to Dubois and its faculty. Mike put in a great deal of time and labor arranging and preparing for school dances. He's intelligent, quiet and efficient. Here's hoping he gets his heart's desire—an appointment to West Point and an army career.

JAMES J. COMISKEY

194-05 113th Road, St. Albans, L. I.

Science Club 1; Math Club 2; Intramural Track 1, 2; Alert 3; Editor 4; Class President 4.

Jim . . . formerly of St. Rose's on Washington Heights; now a resident of Long Island. Noted for his zealous interest in extra class activities, he's a bright spot in everybody's cup of tea. Jim likes history but "eschews" math. He plans to teach.

DANIEL J. DAVIS

508 West 135th Street, New York 31

Intramurals 1; Art Club 2; Student Council 3; Dramatic Club 4; Student Manager.

Danny . . . hopes to be an engineer if at all possible. He is set for a position at the Brooklyn Navy Yard after graduation—already passed the Civil Service test. He likes math and drawing. The fellows call him "Smiley."

JOHN F. DOLAN

0 West 162nd Street, New York 52

ty 4; Student Council 4; Photography 3; Intramural Basketball 3, 4.

... came to Dubois from Cathedral in Junior Year. Adapting himself to the program, he soon became a Dubois Man. He is interested in sports—especially baseball and basketball. et for college in the fall.

BERNARD M. DUFFY

1400 University Avenue, New York 52

Sodality 1; Science Club 1; Missions 1, 2, 3, 4; Dance Club 3; Student Council 4.

Bernard . . . among his other talents is his ability to make friends and to throw the class into hysterics at a moment's notice. His great ambition is to enter the field of electronics. He now works for an electrical component shop.

PETER B. DUNICAN

500 West 135th Street, New York 31

Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 2; Dramatics 3; Manager: Track 1, 2; Varsity Basketball 4; Dance Club 1, 4; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Science Club 4.

Benny . . . enjoys football, basketball, and dancing. Managing the varsity basketball squad affords him a tremendous amount of pleasure. Pete's counting on gaining admission to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy.

THOMAS J. DUFFY

514 West 135th Street, New York 31

Track 1; Intramural 1, 2, 3, 4; Dance Club 3; Dramatics 4.

Tom . . . independent thinking and forceful attitude have made him a standout in class. Tom's inexhaustible supply of questions has yet to let a teacher go unchallenged. As far as the future is concerned, Tom's aim is to be a professional trumpeteer.

WILLIAM J. FRANCIS

510 West 134th Street, New York 31

Student Government President; Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4. Student Council 3; Science Club 4; Alert 4.

Bill . . . always active in school affairs, his greatest thrill came with his election to the school presidency. His favorite pastime is the student court which he runs fairly, firmly, and efficiently. He looks forward to Business Administration at City College.

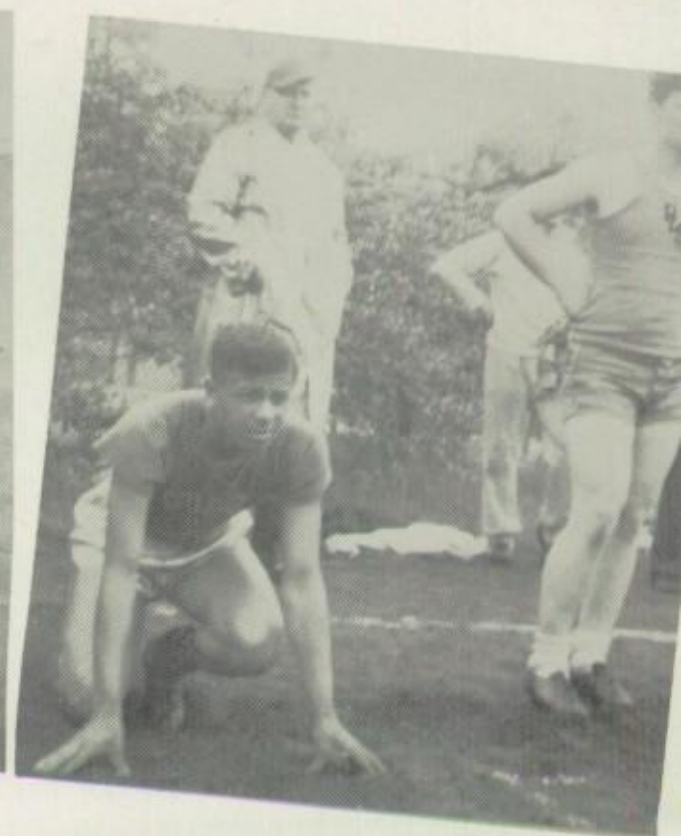

CONRAD G. GASKIN

1155 Boston Road, New York 56

Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3; Da Club 3.

Gus . . . will hold fond memories of and Brother Norbert. As a regular member of the Track team he contributed much towards its various successes. After service he hopes for a career in government work.

ROLAND J. GUILLEN

544 West 157th Street, New York 31

Intramurals 1, 2; Missions 1, 2, 3, 4; Ramblers 3; Science Club 4; Sodality 4.

Rollo . . . amicable, ambitious, and competent—if work doesn't begin too early in the A.M. He has an idea that a career in the field of fashion designing would suit him very well.

DANIEL P. HESLIN

3135 Godwin Terrace, New York 63

Intramurals 1, 2, 3, 4; Sodality 4; Science Club 4; Dramatics 3, 4; Missions 1, 2, 3, 4.

Danny . . . courteous and gentlemanly, will be long remembered for the witty and wise comments that brightened our school days. Above, you see him uniformed as leader of his local Fife and Drum Corps.

EDWARD R. HOBAN

610 West 164th Street, New York 32

Science Club 1, 4; Art Club 2; Track 1, 4; Football 3, 4; Student Council 3; Drama Club 4; Alert Art Editor 4.

... blew in from St. Rose of Lima's years ago. His favorite sports are swimming and cycling; his hobbies, whittling and fishing. Ed plans a business course at John's College.

PATRICK J. HONAN

539 West 162nd Street, New York 32

Intramurals 2, 3, 4; Math Club 2, 3; Dramatics 4; Yearbook Dance Committee.

Pat . . . usually found in the company of Brennan and Mulcahy. He looks forward to a college education, and, being extremely fond of jazz, hopes one day to have his own band.

RICHARD F. KRAEMER

730 Riverside Drive, New York 31

Math Club 2; Intramural Basketball 1, 2; Science Club 4.

Dick . . . a quiet, diligent student who keeps on the go with studies, basketball, bowling, and swimming. His intention upon leaving Dubois is to enroll for a college course in chemical engineering.

RENALDO M. JENSEN

Track 1, 2, 3; Jayvee Basketball Manager 2; Dance Club 3.

Renaldo . . . from Saint Augustine's parish in the Bronx. This gentleman is planning to become a commissioned officer in the United States Air Force after a course at A and T College in Greenborough, North Carolina.

RONALD D. MacLELLAN

3042 Heath Avenue, New York City

Track 1, 2; Math 2; Camera Club 3, 4; Dance Club 1, 2, 3; Ramblers 1, 2, 3, 4; Alert 4; Science Club 4; Yearbook Photographer and Photography Editor.

Mack . . . frequently seen roaming around the school with a technical eye searching for photogenic subjects. Many surprised and delighted students were caught in the lens of his candid camera. He's heading for engineering at Manhattan.

JUSTIN F. McCarthy

94 Hamilton Place, New York 31

Varsity Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Jayvee Baseball 1, 2; Varsity Basketball 3, 4; M Club 3; Science Club 4.

Buddy . . . will always remember the many friends he made at Dubois. For all years he has had an active part in sports delights in the many victories that brought fame and praise to the school.

JAMES L. McDONNELL

174 West 107th Street, New York City

Intramurals 2, 3, 4; Basketball Manager-Jayvee 3, Varsity 4; Sodality 4; Science Club 4.

Mack . . . a Scottish lad with a pleasant personality and wide popularity. A friendly game of basketball delights his heart. He hopes to gain admission to Manhattan College.

PAUL A. McGOWAN

535 West 111th Street, New York 25

Basketball-Jayvee 2, Varsity 3, 4; Varsity Baseball 3, 4; Math Club 2; Student Council 4; Sodality 4; Missions 1, 2, 3, 4; Dance Club 4; Science 4.

Paul . . . his keen sense of humor and love of fun have helped keep senior sessions alive and interesting. Paul is well versed in sports and enjoys French and math. His next plan is a communications course in the Air Corps.

RAYMOND P. McMAHON

561 West 175th Street, New York 33

Ray . . . from Incarnation—remembers as the happiest times of all the annual parades up 175th Avenue. He spends a lot of time at the buskey and his busboy job. He is bent on an engineering course at City College.

PHILIP F. McMANUS

1098 Woodycrest Avenue, New York 52

Math Club 2; Ramblers 3; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Sodality 4.

Phil . . . stamp collecting and basketball comprise his two main interests. He intends to forego college until he has done a hitch with the Navy.

JAMES E. MULCAHY

541 West 162nd Street, New York 32

President of Junior Year; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 4; Alert 3; Dance Committee 4; Student Council 4; Dramatics 4.

Jim . . . "friend of all the students and the peeve of all the teachers; one of the 'easy does it' boys who are the envy (sic) of their harder working classmates. Although not ready to the given resolution, my infrequent remarks are memorable." Wot 'e say, huh?

TERENCE J. McSHERRY

95 Seaman Avenue, New York 34

Track 1; Math Club 2; Ramblers 3; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 4; Dance Club 3, 4; Alert 4.

Terry . . . cherishes the memories of Du-bois' climb to athletic fame and all the thrilling events he shared in during his four years. He is going to enlist in the Navy this July and has his mind set on boxing and electronics.

JAMES J. MURPHY

3044 Kingsbridge Avenue, New York 63

Intramurals 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 4; Science Club 3, 4; Ramblers 4; Missions 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club. 3.

Murph . . . comes to us from St. John's Parish. He has always had an active part in class intramurals and after-school activities. His favorite sports are baseball, basketball, and hunting. After graduation Jim intends to join the Police Force.

RICHARD P. O'DONNELL

880 West 180th Street, New York 34

Intramural Basketball 1, 2; Science Club 1, 4; Sodality 4.

Dicko . . . from Incarnation on the Heights. He goes in for history and baseball as his favorites. His plans for the future are rather hazy but he hopes some day to get to college. He looks forward to Alumni reunions.

BERNARD A. OWENS

1525 Amsterdam Avenue, New York 31

Track 1, 2; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 2; Student Council 4; Dance Club 1, 4.

Bernie . . . with his peaceful and congenial nature there is a real aggressive drive. Dancing is his favorite pastime. He is choosing City College or Manhattan for classes in engineering.

JAMES W. PATHE

1008 Summit Avenue, New York 52

Math Club 2; Science Club 4; Alert 4; Missions 1, 2, 3, 4; Sodality 3, 4.

Jim . . . one of the many who came to Dubois from over the bridge. When he is not playing basketball during yard recs you can be sure to find him holding the interest of some group with his jokes. He has picked N.Y.U. for engineering.

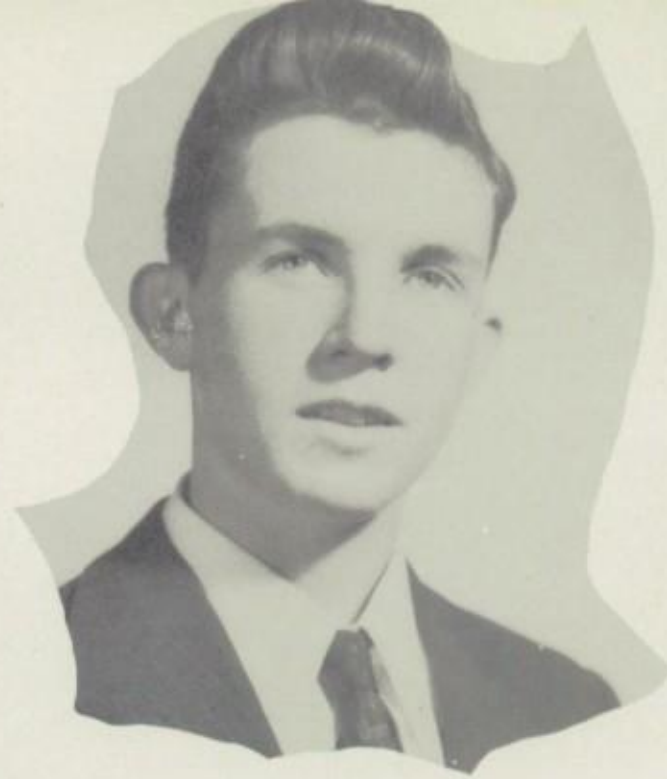

GEORGE P. PERUZZOTTI

648 West 160th Street, New York 32

Science Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2; Math Club 2; Ramblers 3; Camera Club 3, 4; Intramurals 3, 4; Sodality 3, 4; Managing Editor of Alert 4; Yearbook Editor.

George . . . a neighborhood lad who spends most of his time after classes sharing in the various club activities. Photography, science, and music are his big interests. He plans to enter St. John's and become a "Microbe Hunter."

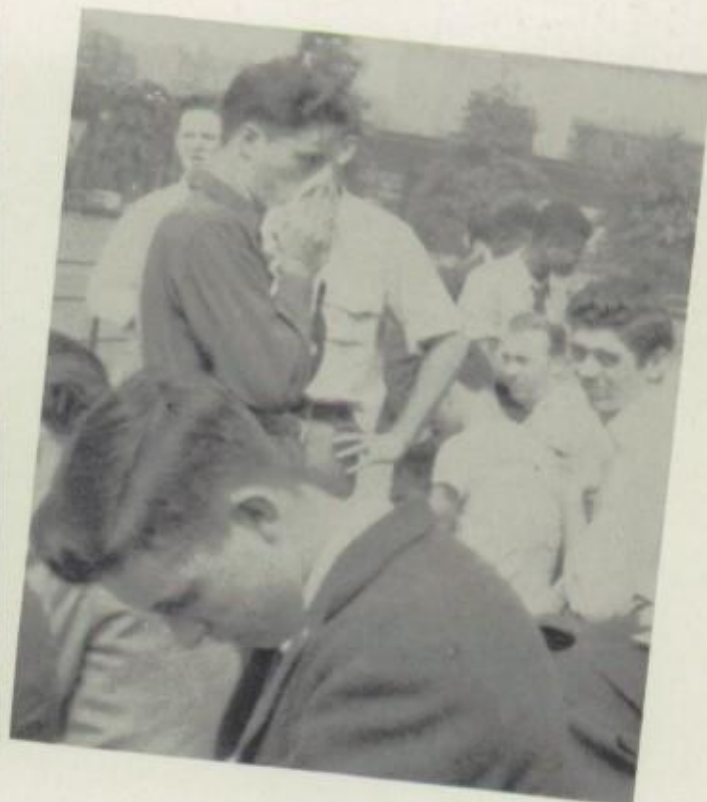

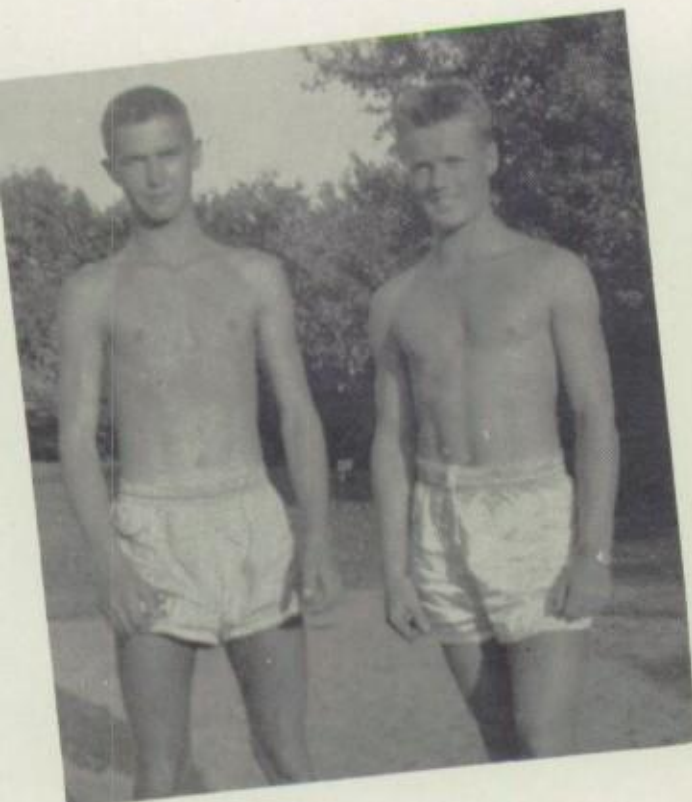

CORNELIUS F. SCANLON

3064 Bailey Avenue, New York 63

Intramural Track 1, 2, 3, Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4.

Neil . . . an enthusiastic Giant fan still gloating over his team's victory in the National League last year. Neil will probably continue his education at Manhattan College.

JAMES V. STANLEY

79 Hamilton Place, New York 31

Intramurals 1, 2, 3, 4; Alert 2; Ramblers 2; Student Council 4; Dramatics 4; Sodality 4.

Stan . . . gives the appearance of being quiet and nonchalant but is actually a very active and humorous fellow. His friendly disposition has made him many friends and will certainly carry him far in the Air Force.

JEREMIAH D. SEELEY

Highland Avenue, Pearl River, N. Y.

Sophomore President; Class President 1A, 2A, 3A; Track 1, 2; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 2; Science Club 4; Mission Representative 1, 2, 3.

Jere . . . Pearl River has given Dubois a fine student and a genial character. To him should go the "Croix de Voiture"—the Commuter's Cross—for his long daily trip. His interests are many but his favorites are dancing, swimming, and conversing.

RICHARD J. URFF

1496 Pimpton Avenue, New York 52

Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 2; Ramblers 2, 3; Dance Club 3, 4; Dramatics 4; Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4.

Richy . . . ambitious, intelligent, and likeable. The lively discussions he provokes in Chem classes are always interesting. He says his four Dubois years were full of joy and hopes his college business course will prove as pleasant.

HENRY L. VAN SLAARS

203 West 107th Street, New York 25

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Jayvee Basketball Manager; Missions 1, 2, 3, 4.

Frenchy . . . one of the most popular seniors because of his pleasing and joshing manner. He is extremely fond of sports—especially golf and baseball. He is planning to join the Air Force and hopes he can line up for himself a course in navigation or electronics.

ANTHONY J. WALSH

404 West 116th Street, New York City

Track 1; Math Club 2; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 4; Dance Committee 4; Sodality 4.

Tony . . . a cheerful and well liked fellow—a thorough Dubois Man. He cherishes the memories of his school's rise to fame and popularity. Tony is set for the Air Corps in September. He would like to study radar as groundwork for a career.

JOHN J. WATERS

Jack . . . interested in school and its activities. Bowling and basketball are his prime diversions. He is intent on working his way through Manhattan College for an engineering degree. Prosit!

THOMAS C. WILKINS

1068 Franklin Avenue, New York 56

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Dance Club 3

Tommy . . . from Saint Augustine's in the Bronx. His pastimes are baseball and football. He has his heart set on Manhattan College but can't make up his mind whether he should prepare himself for teaching mathematics or being an engineer.

Dramatics

"THE TRAITOR"

by Herman Wouk

Lt. Henderson (John Mahoney) arrives as guest of Emanuel.

Professor Emanuel (James Quinn) poses for secretary (Mary Lou Jennings).

This play, so successfully produced by the Dubois Dramatic Club under the direction of Father Hicks, concerns a thoughtful young atomic scientist who sincerely believes that the best way to stop the coming of war is to let the Russians in on the secret of the atom bomb. With both sides possessing such a terrible weapon, he feels that they would have to work together to avoid the mutual suicide of a new world struggle. When trapped by Naval Intelligence, he sees the error of his path and helps in the trapping of the chief Russian secret agent.

Chief Spy Agent (Cornelius Lynch) demands secrets—or else!

Professor Carr (Daniel Fennell) airs his pacifistic views.

Brothers Norbert and Thomas enjoy nautical story of Navy Chaplain Father Lavin.

Basketball

The hoopsters of 1951-52 leave behind them the best court record achieved to date by a Dubois team. Full of fight and spirit, they piled up seventeen wins and only four losses. Their wins included victories over all their league opponents; and a thrilling end-season 43 to 41 triumph over Regis gained them a berth in the Catholic High School Championships. In two rugged post season tussles they harried St. Ann's and Holy Trinity to the last whistle. The very successful season was due to a spirited team sparked by the talents of Justin McCarthy and Captain Paul McGowan.
